That’s The

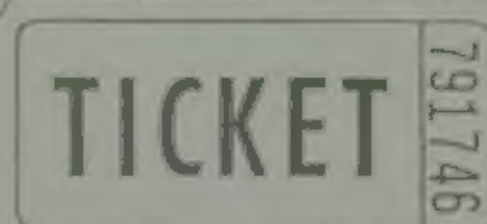

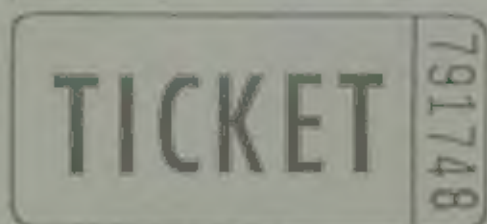

"true colors!"

Our school is the best in the county? ... state? ... country? ... Yeah! Arrow country, that's it! (1) In fact, our school is so good that we have students wanting to come to us from all counties? ... states? ... worlds? ... Yeah! Worlds! Chris Hensley comes to school looking out of this world. We even have famous people visit our school. (2) Look at our teachers. Are they impersonating Albert Einstein or Mr. Emsuer? (3) And there's Jason Jones practicing to become "secretary" of state. (4) Who is this? Don Johnson? ... Michael J. Fox? ... No, it's Kerry Marshall! Yeah! Kerry, that's it! (5) Here we have a visit from Bozo the Clown! No, wait! That's Mrs. McMinni! Yeah! Opening section by Michelle Ives. Photographs by Carmella Cox.

Events "Across the nation and around the world" everybody became involved in the events of the news. Headlines filled the front page promoting war — WAR ON DRUGS! Commercials fill the airways as celebrities pleaded to "Just Say No!". President Reagan finally slipped in popularity when newsmen revealed that he had been involved with secret arms sales to Iran. Connections to Nicaragua and Swiss Bank accounts were hinted at as the story unfolded.

More and more happenings unfold as the year progresses . . .

1. Celebrities Away . . . Johnny Carson got stiff competition from this sweetheart . . . Lynn Miller . . . Joan Rivers? Yeah, that's it! 2. Spectators cheer on the local, no, the WORLD famous Arrows. Yeah. 3. Shawnee says good-bye to Ms. Foley, a dedicated student teacher who was with us for 2 months, no 2 years, no 20 years! Yeah! This is her retirement party, that's it! 4. "We would like to welcome you to our school, no state, no Country, that's it, we are the official U.S. Band Corps! Yeah! 5. Free style and fun at the Halloween dance, no PROM! Yeah the Middle School Prom! That's the TICKET

Speaking of famous people
(1) Is that Sean Penn and Madonna? ... No. It's Jamie
Raney with Angie Rader! Yeah!
(2) And here we have Scott

ing crowned King and Queen try? ... Yeah! and (3) here we have Jackie Barbosa auditioning for a role on Broadway? No

the lead in "the Music Man"?
Yeah! That's it, the musical!
(4) Is it Cinderella getting ready for the ball? ... Wait! That's Michelle Day fixing her face. (5)
Like Shawn Roberts demonstrates, Shawnee students can do anything they want. We can have winning seasons in football, beautiful girls, gorgeous guys, and hey, we can even fly!
Yeah! Shawn is flying high on her 15th birthday. (6) Politics are very big here — especially since President Reagan began his es-dressed up as their favorite idols

— we had Bon Jovi? ... Nixon?
Yeah! David RICHARDson
NIXON! Yeah!

Varsity Hopefuls

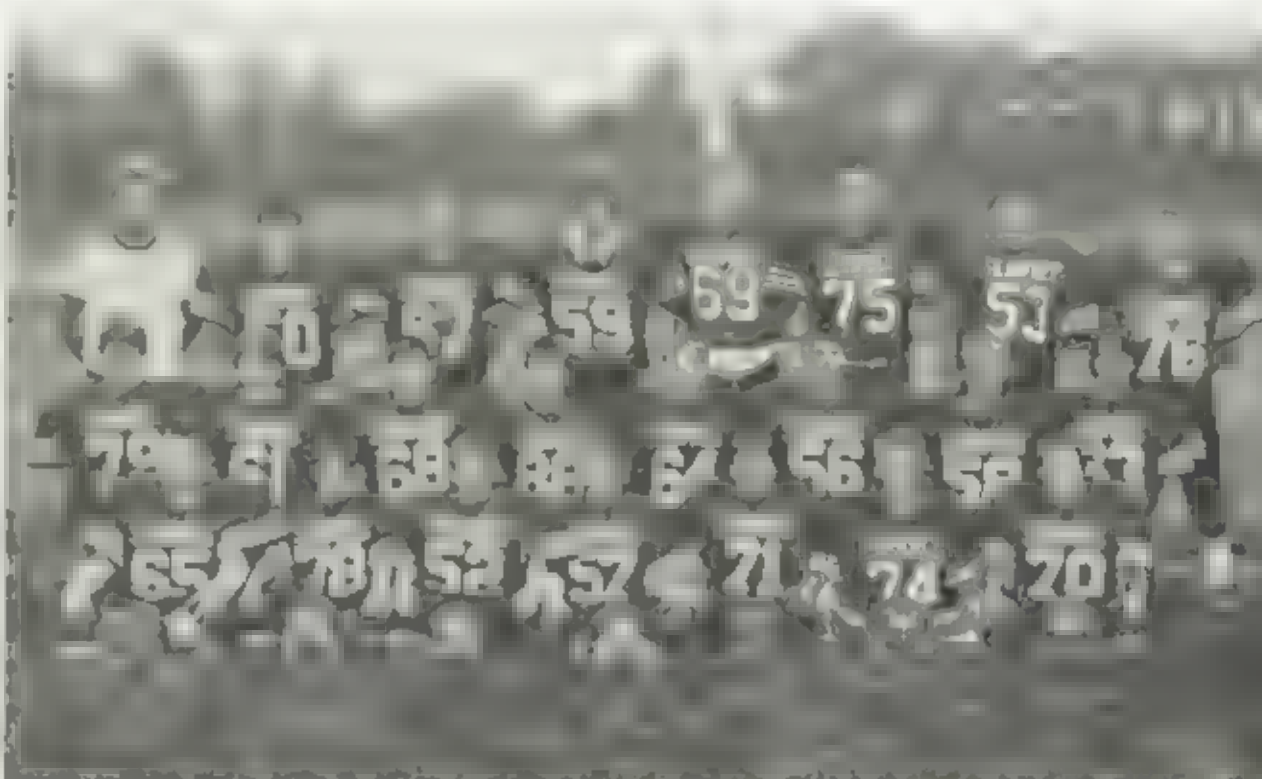

Jr. Arrows Must Learn Ropes

Football seems to be the life's blood of most school districts. The coming on of school isn't thought of for the academic gains about to be attempted, but for the upcoming football extravaganza! Schools are about to face their ultimate challenge — winning football!

The middle school plays football for a different reason than the high school. The middle school plays to gain the experience and knowledge needed by varsity players. As football players in the middle school their final goal is to play varsity football.

Record of 17-5 overall What a team!! Shawnee's Varsity Arrowettes had a very successful season: 2nd SWBL, Sectional Champs, District runner-up Joanie Ehrhardt, a Senior this year and a spiker for the team, deserves a lot of credit. This is her 4th year on Varsity. She received the following recognitions: District player of the year, All Area Player of the Year, State All-Star, and First team all SWBL along with Kelly Kiracofe. She owes much appreciation to her teammates and her coach

Miss Zimmerman, who has been very supportive. Terri Gevedon and Susan George were accepted to the 2nd team all SWBL and Cathy Baker and Stephanie Morris were Honorable Mention. Team awards went to Kelly Kiracofe, most improved, Terri Gevedon and Susan George, outstanding setters, and Joanie Ehrhardt, M V P. M.S. Learns The Game From Top To Bottom!

As the anxious seventh and eighth graders wait for their opponents arrival, they prepare for their last game of the season. Girls are everywhere perfecting their sets, spikes, and volleys. Fans stroll in, mostly parents, to watch the finale. Carlisle arrives, the fans start to "get crazy". The Middle School teams did well this season. under two new coaches. Ms. Allen, took on the seventh graders — both new to the game. They ended their season 4-7. The Eighth graders, led by Sherry Apking were more capable. They were 6-4

NO EASY ANSWERS

The Varsity team was 10-10 this year. Why? Well, like we said, there are no easy answers, but we got four of our varsity players to try

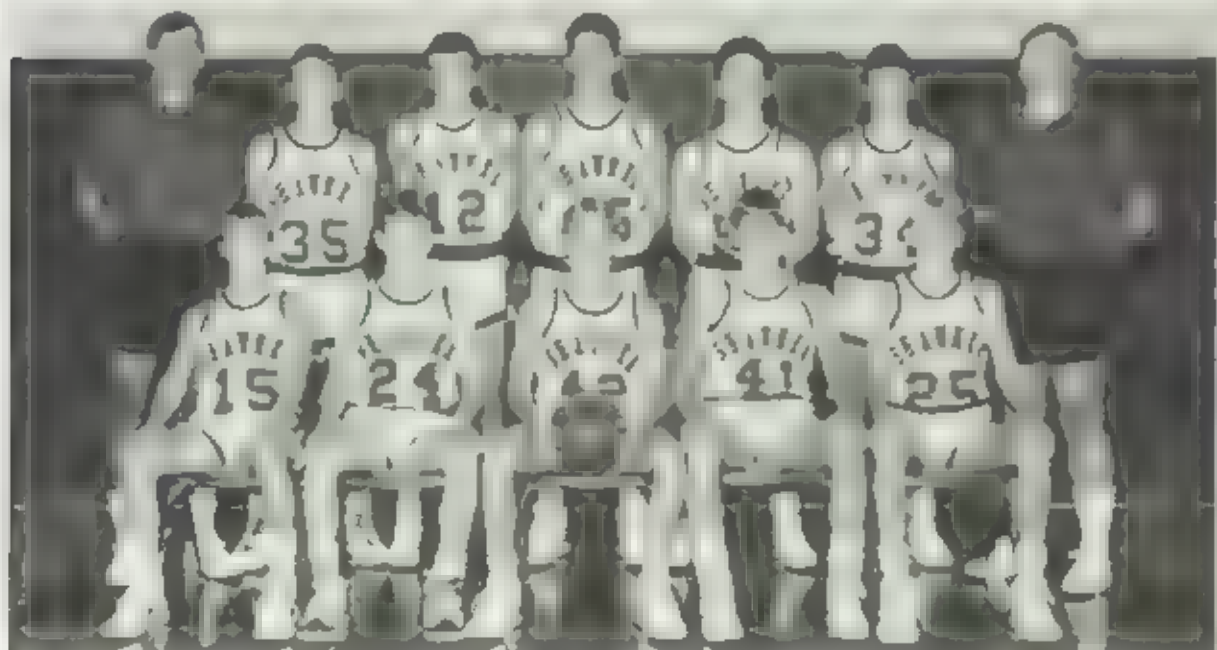

'After we started losing, we got down on ourselves and didn't pick ourselves back up.' — Larry Smith

"During tight situations the pressure got to us because we were inexperienced." — Scott Cottingham

"People thought more about their personal stats than about the team." — Nick Nickman

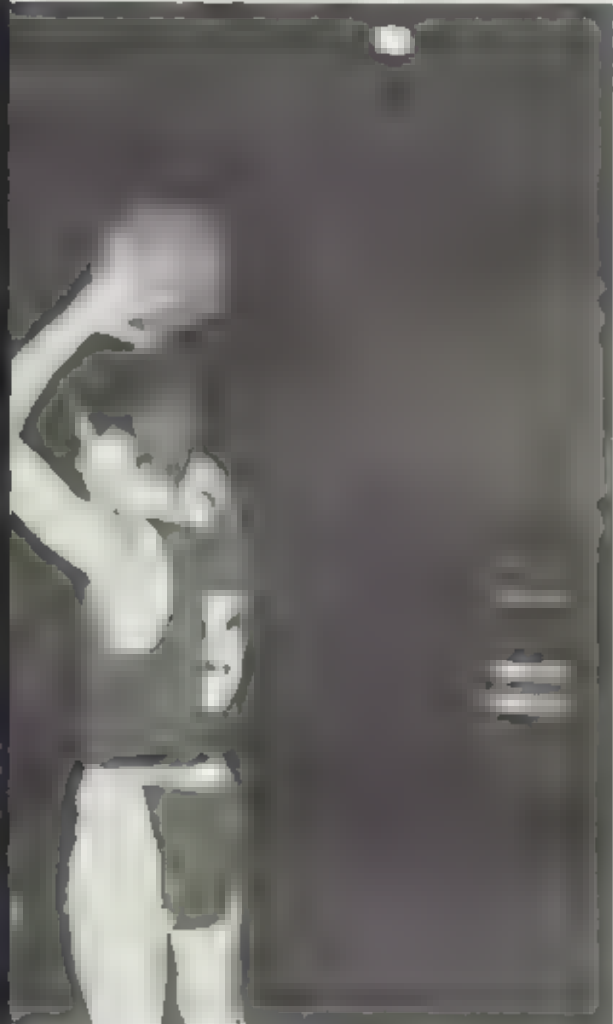

"Not enough experience. Only one starter this year had any varsity experience." — Kevin Montgomery

READY IN RED

Breaking seasonal records is becoming a habit for the Lady Arrows. Doing better than last season's all-time highs with record of 16-3 for Reserve and 15-4 for Varsity. The record for the Varsity was good enough for a 2nd place finish in the SWBL.

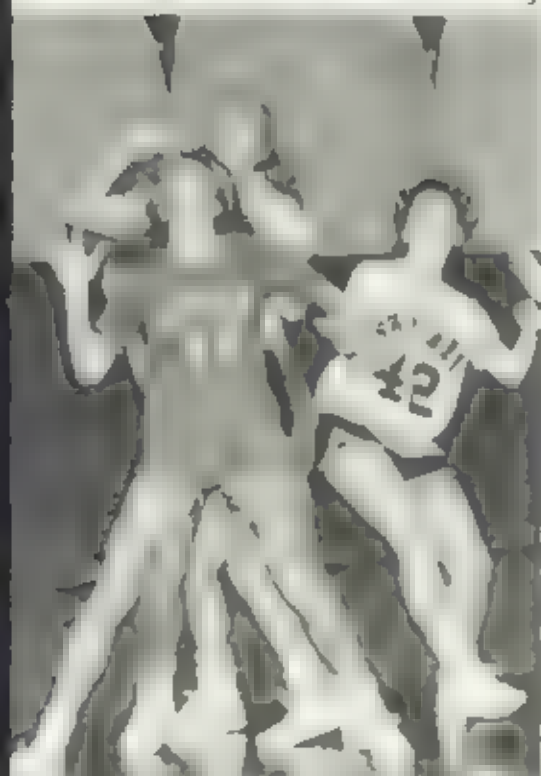

A first place trophy was earned by both teams when they participated in the Tri-County North Tournament. Kelly Kiracofe and Terri Gevedon, both playing at the peaks of their seasons, were named for the All-Tournament team. Kelly Kiracofe and Michelle Tewart received honorable mention in the SWBL and Ginger Lake received honorable mention All-District 15.

Hi-Risers

Everyone knows that to have a winning team, it takes the team work of every player. That means putting out your very best at times when it seems impossible, going to practice when you feel your worst, and running those never ending laps when your legs feel like lead

The team work was evident with the seventh grade boys team this year. An outstanding record of 16-1 was a welcome awarded to the team for their hard effort. The eighth grade season was 4-11

Skillbuilding . . .

There's More To Being In Great Shape Being Good!

Unlike the NBA whose season lasts until the beginning of summer, middle school basketball has to be finished by the end of March to make room for Track and softball and school's end. The season keeps up a grueling pace of constant practice and pounding of feet on gym floors.

To be good in basketball height always helps, but you have to be able to maneuver as well. Speed and alertness are always basic skill essentials, too. Whatever talent you possess, though it takes molding.

The Coaches at this early stage of the game must be able to shape a ballplayer from being o.k. in gym class to being a top notch star. If the skills aren't learned early on — bad habits might take over.

#6 In The State

Raney Continues Trend

Being a young team does not mean you are also inexperienced. Shawnee began the season with a large squad, but numbers dropped off by season's end. The few that remained were young, but proved they knew what they were doing.

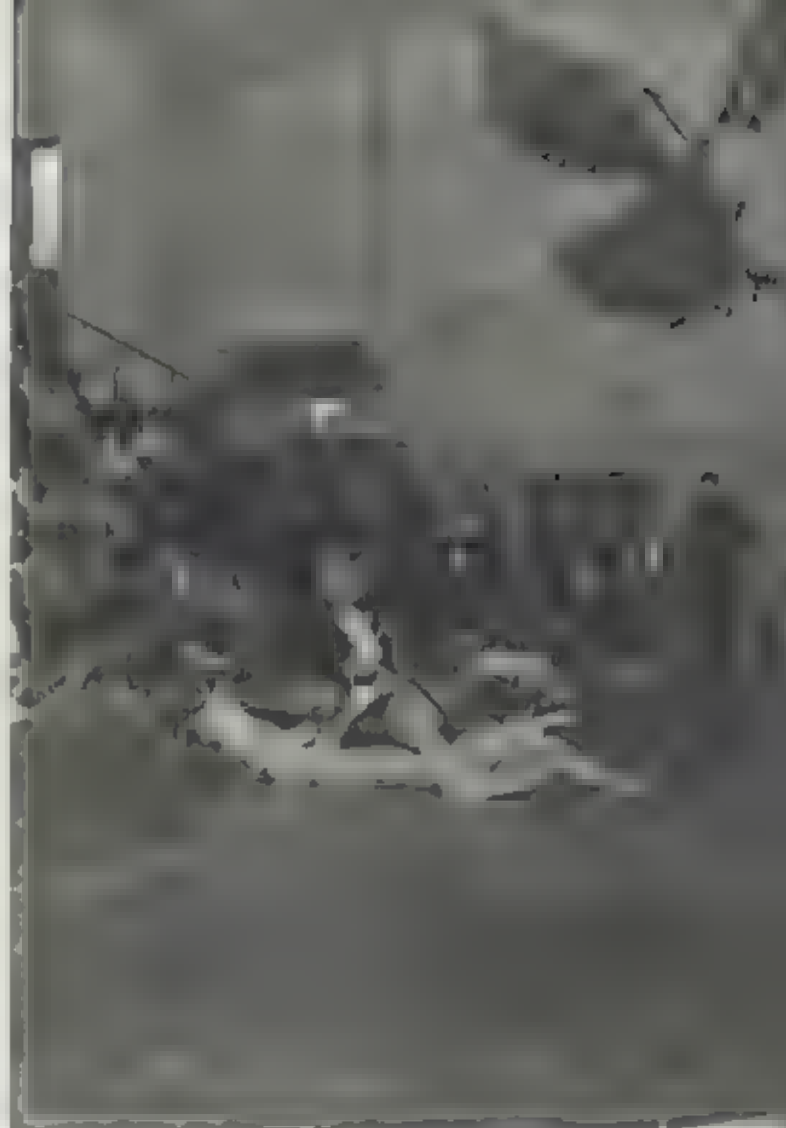

Leading the team, James Raney, a junior, continued Shawnee's prominence at State Competition by placing 6th. Injuries suffered in tournament play were the main deterrent from higher placement. His win marks the fourth year in a row the Arrows have placed in the top 10 State. Another Junior, Brian Brewer, qualified for regional action.

Raney also captured League and District Championships.

The Wrestlers are proving their place in the Winter Sports season. If numbers could continue to go up and younger wrestlers remain to gain strength and experience, the Arrow Squad should remain a powerhouse.

A Winning Combination!

Coach Z — "Coach Of The Year"
And District AA — "Runner's Up"!

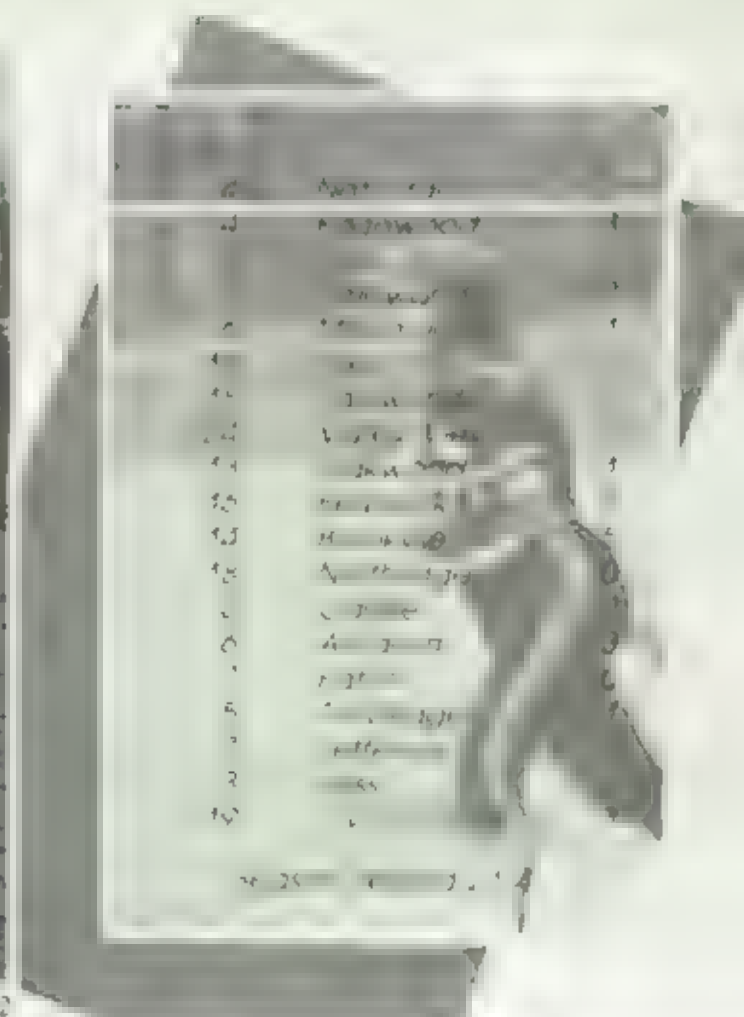

"It's been fun, it's always fun to win. I saw the players hard work pay off for them." Coach Zimmerman talked about her team in the papers just after being named "Coach of the Year" for the SWBL. The title came in recognition for her winning season in softball. This is not the first time she's earned these honors although a first for softball. She's also been formally recognized for her talents in Volleyball

Let's not forget her team Susan George, a Junior, received honors for her fabulous, fast-pitch record of 21-4. This record earned her top honors as All-State team pitcher. She earned her last victory May 19 against National Trail 8-2 which earned the Lady Arrows the title of District AA Runner's Up

The season came to a halt on May 22 against Carlisle in a 1-0 loss

1 Lettie Combs may have been only a freshman but she had the talents to play Varsity ball. 2 Angela Weadick, another Freshman pitches for the Reserve team. Kneeling — Chad Wilson (stats), Mark Hibbard, Fred Brock, Don Howard, Greg Marsh and Jackie Jordan. 8. Scott Cottingim swings . . . and misses

Another Summer Ritual Begins

The Varsity baseball team had a good season. Compared to last years record of 7-13 14 7 is a definite improvement. Of course experience had a lot to do with it. Seven of the twelve varsity players were seniors

A talented pitcher also helps. Ralph Marsh certainly proved his worth with 3 wins, 4 saves, and 2 losses for the season. But a pitcher is only as good as his team, and Raiph wasn't alone out there. Through teamwork and determination the guys proved their worth.

State Track Meet

An End Of Year Tradition!

There's always a need to finish up the ECHO by school's end in order to get the book to the publisher before the staff is gone. It's become a bit of a tradition to sit back and wait to finish until the State Track Meet is over because we keep sending people! It's a tradition we don't mind continuing.

Competing in the 100 and 300 low hurdles, Ginger Lake, a Senior finished 6th in the 100's and an unofficial 9th place finish in the 300. She almost lost her chance to go to State at the Regionals due to an attempt to disqualify her for her technique. It was tossed out in the end.

Sonya Ackman, also a Senior, competed in the Disc-finisher unofficially 14th.

We hope that next year's wait will also reap good results.

1. Struggling for the lead against Valley View, James Smith lunges forward to take it. 2. Kim Swinford leaves everybody behind in the 440. 3.

All Photographs were taken by the track teams. We thank you for your help.

Track — A Welcome Sight

Warm sunny days and strong winds are characteristic of the track season. Unusually so this year, there were very few rainy days — so the Track season was able to go off unbroken. Middle School Track met with lots of improvements by the girls' squad. Second-year Coach Wright didn't experience the famous "sophomore jinx". Instead she settled into winning and the team's end of year statistics won out. Winning three first place finishes and three second place spots, the 7th and 8th grade girls went one step further in preparing themselves for high school competition.

The 7th and 8th grade boys experienced some numbers problems. By having a small team to begin with, winning meets is almost impossible there aren't enough boys in events to bring home the points. Coach Voris worked well with the team he had though.

So, it's the Spring and Track is a sure sign that summer is coming. For that reason alone, it's a welcome sight.

Life In The Fast Lane!

Hungry? Don't know where to go? Why not try the concession stand at the boys basketball games? The concession stand was the biggest money maker for the juniors. Without it there would be no way to finance the prom. The juniors worked very diligently in the concession stand, not only for their class but also to earn that free ticket for the big date. Work wasn't as putting ice in glasses, either. Everyone who worked hard had to arrive a half hour before the reserve game and usually had to stay one half to one hour after the game to clean up and mop the floor. But a few juniors managed the burden and ended up enjoying it (just a little).

Juniors

1. Trying to identify physical and chemical changes, Susan George and Michelle Purdy discuss their observations. 2 Money-taker Dawn Tackett takes a breather during a game with South. 3 Co-workers Jennifer Beatty, Michelle Purdy, Polly Steele, Susan Smith, and Melissa Amett, anticipate the hunger-drives of the half-time crowds. 4 Hungry customers eye the hot dogs, pizza, french fries and pop, set before them Choices! Choices! 5. Torn between her drill team routine and the correct change Dawn Tackett hurries to finish

The Few The Proud The Hall Wanderers

Even though a lot of people roam the halls, Sophomores tend to be the ones wandering the most. Excuses vary from getting their books that they forgot to bring to class, or being out doing "brownie errands" for their teacher. Just plain skipping makes the hall a favorite place for tenth graders too.

BUT! To be in the hall, one needs a pass. These unique creations vary as well based on the individual personalities of their creator. For instance, Mr. Kalmus has a bone for a pass, a wood block from Mr. Cline, Mrs. Raney's big, orange paper clip and the most unique of all — Doc Crumbaker's! In order to leave his room, you have to wear long, black leather gloves and carry a black brush. (And he actually gets takers!)

Fitness Isn't A Freshman Fad

What two classes are required for freshmen? Health and gym, of course! Most people like gym because it's fun, but why take health? Well, it's to teach humiliation. In what other class would you have to act out a skit on drug abuse in front of the whole class? Or watch twenty year old films and not be able to complain? Who else but freshmen would put up with being bandaged by their friends until they look like a mummy while learning first aid? Who else could be forced to learn mouth-to-mouth and CPR on Resusci Annie? Yes, health teaches humiliation, but most students learn useful things. First aid and CPR are good things to know no matter how boring they may be to learn. However, there is one thing that all freshmen enjoy about health — learning about the facts of life!

"Locker Talk" ²

If lockers could only talk, ooh! The secrets they could reveal. After all, they are the "home away from home" for you at school (you want to stretch the point). If you've looked inside some lockers you'd swear it was home! Mirrors, pictures of family and friends, spare shoes and clothes, food — any and all could be found inside a locker. They do hold a special place in our hearts.

They're also a favorite place to talk! Many a secret was revealed or created in front of a locker. Relationships began (and ended) in front of lockers. Friends are told to "meet me at my locker". Teachers are told "it's in my locker" when homework or books can't be found. Why, if you didn't have a locker — where would you find out anything?

1 Chris Lykins waits for friends on the gym bleachers before a pep assembly, during the football season 2 Whether it's a quick question about homework or to comment about guys — Candi Fyffe, Amy Lar and Theresa Hubbard gather before school by their lockers 3 Jennifer Cornett has to wait before getting to her locker. Getting a top or bottom locker can cause problems all year if you can't get at it 4 Agonizing over which books to take can be a big problem. After all, you have to carry the ones you don't need — a heavy alternative for Kristina Mowen 5 Loaded lockers can cause accidents if you're not careful Anitra Biggs is confident — no collision today

1. When it comes to the dance, where else are you in the latest steps? In 1978, I had a few tips for the dance. Why? The dance is the Halloween dance. It's a dance, but it's not just enough to get it. But I really stuck around long enough to get his picture taken. 3. I wanted to know what all fun — there is some required work. Where The Spirit Takes Us!

During the past few years, trends in the social world have drifted towards the dance floor dancing to music such as "You give love a bad name," by Bon Jovi and far extremes like Lionel Richie's "Dancing on the Ceiling." It is usually a reflection of the performer's personality.

The Halloween dance brought Middle Schoolers, in punkish costumes. Dancing differs from person to person. It is usually a reflection of the performer's personality. Dancing moods change too. While the fast, preppy music sets an even more serious mood and this is how those fabulous feet determine how to show off their talent. Somehow, memories of your first school dance stand out more than others. After all, the first dance comes with it other firsts: 1st boyfriend, 1st slow dance and yes! the first kiss!

Armed & Ready!

Sixth graders and their duffle bags! An awesome combination, or for them, an "ouch-ful" combination. For their size, being "armed" with those book bags, backpacks and tote bags — jammed with everything they own can be a real problem for those little guys. How would you like to be walking down the hall with an armload of books and suddenly be attacked by a struggling sixth grader whose duffle bag suddenly gets the better of them and whacks you in the gut?

The extremely heavy armload of books soon becomes an extremely messy, disorganized clump on the floor. You quickly pick up your books — trying to contain your embarrassment and anger — because you realize, not too long ago, you were that sixth grader struggling down the hall with your duffle bag!

"There has been many good things said about Mr. Headley as a teacher, an administrator and Family man. As a Board member I became close to him on a professional and friendly level, he was a close friend and he knew it before he passed away. He left us with a challenge to keep Preble Shawnee school's #1, as he considered them to be Mr. Web Dougherty

He recognized the need for providing the best for young people whether in the classroom, as an athlete, or a citizen. He knew his role and the responsibility of his position. He was a conscientious, untiring worker. He enjoyed himself in all of life's situations; expected a lot of himself as a person as shown with his accomplishments at Preble Shawnee Schools."

CENTRAL OFFICE

Central Office, the heart of the District, was greatly effected by the death of Superintendent, Duard Headley early in the school year. Mr. Larry Rentschler (right) became Acting Superintendent and faced many new pieces of business, as well as his old duties. Other essential staff at the office include Jack Mann, Treasurer and the office crew of Mary Dull, Marilyn Crawford and Yvonne Shuler (far right).

Mr. Duard Headley

"Mr. Headley was a fine educator and administrator. His contributions to the Preble Shawnee Local School District can not adequately be described in words. His tireless efforts were always directed toward providing the best possible instructional staff and educational program for our students. He made a tremendous impact on the Preble Shawnee Schools, leading the district through a building program and reorganization, making this district the best in the area. Preble Shawnee was extremely fortunate to have had Duard Headley as superintendent.

Donald L. Garrett
Mr. Duard Headley as an educator had a strong commitment to the students, he was very concerned about them the best possible educational opportunities both inside and outside the classroom. As an administrator he was demanding and strived for excellence and dedication from his employees. As a person he was proud and stern, concerned and caring. He wanted everyone to put their best foot forward and be successful.

L.B. Russell

"A close friend and mentor. A force in my life that will never be forgotten."

Larry A. Rentschler

TO DARRELL

Nothing exists unless thought of first
All is what's made to be
If said there's a moon beyond the moon
The moon would be twice seen
If said that you believe in me now belief would soon be true
Nothing exists unless thought with love
I believe in you.

By Kelly Raney

Why is it when I look at you
I am reminded only of the good times?
The laughter, hugs, kisses, and smiles
But when you walk away like many times before
I only think of the bad things
The fights, tears, and snide remarks
Will we ever mean more to each other than good or bad?

Can we be one, united, Free?
Or are we to suffer with the indecision and uncertainty?
I guess the only thing to do is watch and wait for the answer,
the idea or the right moment
For how long? ... No matter I'll wait A LIFE TIME!

The Joint Vocational School Side

School starts a little later, but the long bus ride forces that. The day begins in class — maybe in related or it could be a lab class. Classes are different from regular high school they're concentrated in work fields

We get the usual classes — history, english but mostly we work related information

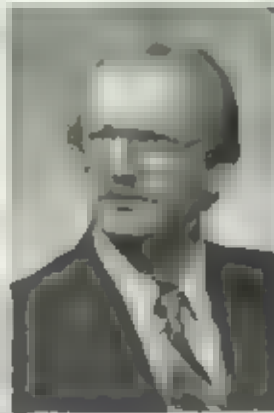

Labs are the real training grounds Whether it be in a salon, office or garage learning takes place. The various programs are held in different buildings making it seem like a campus

The big luxury is the variety of people — every school in the county is represented

"It gives me the opportunity to work with young people. A teacher or principal has the chance to help young people grow into productive citizens. A teacher is rewarded when the students that they worked with are successful." Mr. Russell

Why I chose teaching

"It is the "best" profession" Mr. Rose

1. Junior Jack Napier is in his first year of the Farm Management program. 2. Mike Campbell opted for Ag Diesel for a career. 3. Cosmetology offers more than a job in hair styling. Kim Crouch, Senior is trained in all areas of beauty enhancement. 4. Mr. Shockey and son Pat — there's no getting around Dad when he's one of the guys in charge. 5. Mark McCain may be in Auto body but there's work to be done in his other classes. 6. With the introduction of computers in engine maintenance Tom Hounshell has to pay close attention in Auto Mechanics. 7. Anita Martin became involved in as many organizations as she could through her program.

From Building Strong Minds To Strong Frame

There is more than one way to discover the world. In social studies classes, the world is explored through film, maps, lecture and books. The mind can drift through the happenings of the past to be interpreted and re-interpreted

The other way to explore the world is through touch and creation. In shop classes, you can learn to create and build using woods, metals or film. A tree can be reshaped into a table, a frame or even a house. Metals can be combined, melted and reshaped into mail boxes or mufflers

In Vocational Agriculture the world is recreated as you learn farming skills, conservation and management. You bring back to the earth what was taken

From Do Re Me To Quiet! To Art

Being in class all day is tough! It's for that reason that there are "fun classes" — like art, music and Band. Granted, these classes aren't a breeze. They take a lot of hard work and talent, but they're also fun in that they let us release our CREATIVE ENERGIES!

ART, taught by Mr. Erbaugh, includes vocabulary words in addition to the "fun" stuff, but he keeps getting full classes. Some returning students are Jimmy Sewell and Shawn Fordyce whose talents have blossomed.

Choir and Band haven't been slack either. Choir sent four students to the All Ohio Youth Choir, while Band sent Mark Buller to play in the All Ohio State Fair Band six others to All County Band: Veronica Marriott, Mark Buller, Chris Hamaker, Joe Brown, Melanie Link and Kerrick Wilson.

college bound? work bound? bound to have these!

Science got a face lift this year with the addition of a new class — Chemistry 2. Since Mrs. Steck was needed to take over this new class a new face joined the staff. Mr. Fielder. Now not all of Mr. Fielder's time was spent teaching Physical Science. He also took on new duties in the Middle School teaching Ohio History.

The new class was needed though to keep pace with other area schools. College bound students knew that extra year of Chemistry could mean the difference at college.

Work classes such as OWE and CWA help those students bound for the working world to tune skills

Why I Chose Teaching

"I Enjoy Students And Having Each Day Different."

Mrs. Hughes

I enjoy teaching because I get to see the students grow and learn every day. I love the challenge of helping them understand new concepts and the joy of seeing them succeed. Teaching is a rewarding profession that allows me to make a difference in the lives of my students.

With Two There's Variety

How many times during the day do you go from one class to another wondering where's the connection? You know — why learn math now, we're in shop class? or This is history why does spelling count? Well, from the teacher's point of view it's all connected and that's the purpose behind team teaching

Two teachers combined this year to make learning a bit more pulled together — Ms. McMillin and Mrs. Lindsey. They combined on a unit covering Chino-Japanese cultures and it made everyone more involved!

"I chose teaching for four reasons:

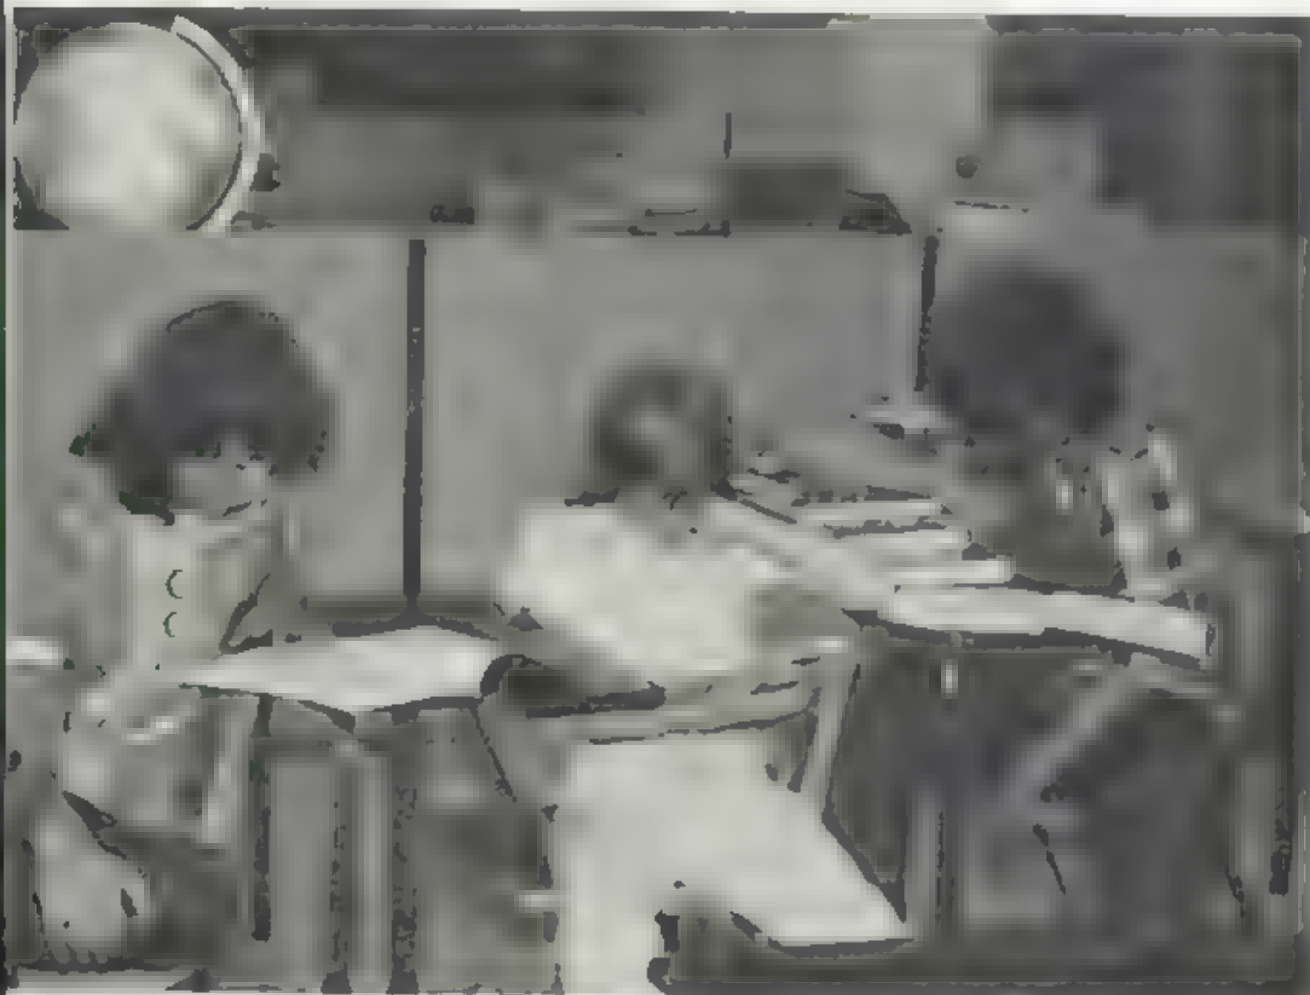

1. My teachers encouraged me to do so.

4. I enjoy it." Mrs. Collins

Why I chose teaching . . .

"I enjoy the challenge of working with students" Mrs. Nesslage

1. The Echo class was asked to visit the 7th grade Lit classes to give some insight into what is expected of them in high school. 2. Gym class doesn't thrill everyone, but the activity and warm air breaks up the day. 3. Always a bundle of energy, Ms. McMillin keeps kids on school work. 4. The end of day and everyone is anxious to go home, Mrs. Nesslage will still put in more time before going home. 5. Just another day in eng . . . What's that? Oh! Halloween time again! 6. Mrs. Banfield teaches what needs to be learned — she can also make it fun. 7. Softball time! 8. No cage ball this time in gym . . . sock it over the net!

WILDCATING

Ladies Of The Class Of 1988 Prove Their Power

The Juniors and sophomores were fidgety because they were up against the senior team. The senior team had never lost a game. The freshman were slightly nervous because it was their first game, but they had the seniors on their side. That obviously wasn't enough because the junior team won by a close margin.

"Heaven In Your Eyes"

Homecoming was a busy week. We had a lot of fun activities planned for all of us to celebrate the big Homecoming game. During the week we had a variety of fun "dressing up" days Friday in our last period class our band played our school song through the halls. Friday night we had our game. It was close, but unfortunately we lost to the Northridge Polar Bears. Saturday night as the D.J.'s played the theme "Heaven In Your Eyes" we danced the night away with our dates. Homecoming will always, always be a night to remember

Presenting The Royal Couple — Tara And Scott

Scott Cottingim and Tara Bishop were chosen as the 1987 Homecoming King and Queen. In this honor, the ECHO staff decided to get to know them just a little better ping by the school all the time.

17 year old Tara Bishop was thrilled to be picked as Queen. She was an attendant her junior year. Also, she's been a cheerleader and played powderpuff football.

An avid horse lover, she has won several awards in horse shows and rodeos for her work.

17 year old Scott Cottingim lives and works on a farm, where he's lived all of his life. In the Fall, Scott plans to go to college. He has blond hair and blue eyes. He played football, basketball and baseball.

Scott comes from a unique family He's related to just about everyone in the District and has brothers, cousins and an occasional aunt subbing or stop-

The first part of the document is a letter from the author to the reader, dated 18th March 1881. The letter is written in a very informal, almost conversational style, and is addressed to 'My dear friend'. The author discusses the progress of his work on the 'History of the Jews in the East', and mentions that he has just received a copy of the 'Journal of the Asiatic Society' from the library. He then goes on to discuss the 'Jews of the East' in general, and mentions that he has been very much interested in the subject since he first came to the East. He then mentions that he has been very much interested in the subject since he first came to the East.

“Caroling Caroling . . . Band/Choir Put On Quite A Show!”

Bright smiles and cheery faces
ed the enthusiasm of the Christmas concert this year. A joint effort by the Band and Choir proved to be an entertaining evening. Christmas always rouses a special time for music and song

No longer did performing have to be confined to the stage. An evening of Christmas caroling and singing for people was a different twist for some choir members. Although it was a cold, drizzly night, the voices were warmed up and sang to their best in Gratis and West Elkton

The Spring concerts were done separately. Some technical problems with the equipment created some havoc for Choir members, but the audience didn't seem to mind

Breaking The Old — Bring On The New!

Future Homemakers of America is not the same organization today that it was twenty years ago. More women are entering the club to learn about being a woman in the future whether that be a career in business or a career as a mother. Today's woman can be anything she wants.

Future Farmers Of America

"We Get Involved!"

The Future Farmers of America is a growing club here, but they are making a very impressive beginning. They have spent the year involved in a fruit sale, a Roll-A-Thon, Tractor Rodeo, chapter picnics, field trips and even a basketball team! Advisor, Melody Beckett put in as much time as she could to create an organization people could be proud of.

Pride was evident the night Sara Duffie placed 2nd in the State in competition of the Creed Speaking Award. Jimmy Sewell placed 4th in the District in the Extemporaneous Speaking category. Training is practiced in the Parliamentary Speaking team and the daily running of meetings.

In Chapter awards Jimmy Sewell won the Star Chapter Farmer award and Sara Duffie won Star Green Hand which goes to the newest members.

TOP FUN!

That seemed to be what this years pep assemblies were all about. The atmosphere was supercharged. Arrow fans know what it takes and we've got it — SPIRIT. But let's not forget the great entertainment from dancing faculty to dancing girls to frisbee throwers and thanks to Mr. Shockey and the Student Senate a rock-n-roll band. The annual student versus faculty basketball game was really something to laugh at. Yes, we had it all — entertainment, spirit, and best of all, FUN!

by Michelle Ives

1 Chuck Blanton shows his aggressive side in the annual student-vs -faculty basketball game. He's got his man covered. 2 Pep assemblies show support for our teams and get them pepped up for the game. The seventh grade volleyball team is no exception. 3 Eddie Mowen, Missy Bailey and Susan Whitesell (1986 graduates) tell it like it is — at college. 4 It's always nice to have your own cheering section. Obviously Deron Pugh and Chris Wilson put their faith in Chuck Blanton. 5 the famous frisbee throwing team "The Flying Aces." 6 Proving they are "flying aces" also, Dawn Douglas and Anita Hilton win a frisbee and second place in the frisbee throwing contest. 7. "Give us some of that old time rock-n-roll," Mr. Shockey with band Freeware. 8 Dave Williams, representing the fight against substance abuse, did a comic routine for freshmen which was well received.

Presenting . . . "The Music Man"

"Seventy six trombones lead the big parade . . ." The MUSIC MAN! High schools prefer presenting this show above all others and Shawnee was no exception. While forty cast members learned lines, dance routines, and memorized songs, the Production staff led by Mrs. Garrett worked through the details. The hard work paid off. Upon performing in front of a packed house all three nights, the long hours of rehearsal were forgotten as the curtain lifted.

The casting for the musical was proportioned just right. A larger than normal crew proved to be an anticipating job for the directors. With hard work and lots of rehearsals, they got through it.

With a cast of forty people, there was the need for teamwork. Knowing cues, and each other's lines was a necessity in order to have a hit performance — and a hit performance it was!!

The story of the MUSIC MAN involves a hoax. Professor Harold Hill

(Kris Wilson) is a con man who peddles bands. He meets up with Marion Paroo (Tricia Gadd) a maidenly librarian. He convinces the town to purchase band instruments for their children knowing up front — they weren't very good. He eventually falls in love with Marion and can't bare to deceive her. The music is exciting.

To note: Robert Preston, the original MUSIC MAN died this year, so it's rather appropriate

"DEADLINE!!!" The very mention of the word could make your hair stand on end. Captions, copy, cropping, layouts, and the most dreaded of them all — "Go find out!" Any number of these words are expressed a thousand times over before the final product is finished.

We have to put our own backs because most people just don't understand all that we go through to give them a yearbook — in our best efforts a QUALITY yearbook. The price may keep creeping up but so does everything else. It's just a matter of comparison.

All that we can do is our job. At year's end we hope that our job will give you pleasure. It's a big responsibility pleasing everyone, so we compromised and tried to please most of you. After all, we've got other classes too!

Drill Team

To Make It Work One Must Plan

Though lacking in numbers, the Drill Team makes up for it in energy and talent. Performing in front of the home crowd at every home basketball game, they put in their share of practicing.

Choosing numbers and planning the choreography is under the guidance of Mrs. Raney, the Advisor. She works with the Captain and other officers to make sure every move is perfect. Music is the most important item chosen.

Student Senate "We Get Involved!"

In past years if we had taken a survey among the student body as to the job of Student Senate we would probably have gotten a lot of blank stares in response. Each class elects a Representative but it's been pretty obvious that nobody knew why until this year!

The Student Senate became an active organization this year. Led by President Sonya Ackman, the Senate ventured into some major projects!

A daily involvement was the student bookstore open every morning for those "emergency situations". It was a welcome sight for that lost pencil or lack of paper problem of ten leading to trouble.

A popular concert featuring the traveling band FREE FARE was not only a welcome break but an enjoyable in school concert.

Patriotism Week was also initiated to raise student awareness in our country and why our freedom is so important.

A Year Of Travels

1987 — A year to travel; travel in the sense to greater destinations. The Band and the Choir set out on the road to fame and fortune. Granted, for the Choir, Gratis and New Concord weren't exactly Madison Square Gardens, but it was a start, and a progressive one at that. Many road trips enhanced the 1986-87 school year for the Band and Choir. One such road trip took the Choir to competition at King's Island. After four years of hard work and frustration, the Choir finally got a chance to participate in a competition. A day of viewing other area choirs proved to be a learning experience as well as a fun time for both the Choir and Ms. Stanze. The Select Choir also played a big part of the performances this year. Many area churches requested the Select Choir to perform their arrangements for their church services.

Work Programs Make A Difference!

Our Advertisers make a big difference to our yearbook! Without their generosity we might not ever get published. They are able to help us through their advertising because they too are successful in business. To be good in business a company must hire good, solid and dependable workers. In high school, some students desire to spend part of their day working. It's through these work program that businesses find the type of laborer they need . . . which in turn helps the schools

What kind of kid goes into work programs? Well, at Shawnee there's such a variety it's hard to narrow down into one stereotyped mold. There's the Homecoming Queen, farm kids, athletes, kids that are accepted on each end of the social scale . . . If you look at the type of kid who tries a work program you'd be quite surprised to find just about anybody! And isn't that a solid reflection on our labor force in the U.S.?
